

Celebrating 55 years

The people we serve define our mission of comfort, joy and achievement

Hattie Larlham provides new opportunities to establish people with intellectual and developmental disabilities as members of their community. They earn paychecks, choose where they live and are rewarded for their accomplishments. We are creating a future that empowers people with disabilities to take on bigger and more important roles as our neighbors, coworkers and friends. Today, the people we serve define what comfort, joy and achievement means.

“Diversifying our services has had a positive impact on the lives of the people we serve,” said Hattie Larlham CEO Dennis Allen. “It’s what we’ve done for 55 years and it’s what we’ll continue to do.”

Renovations at the Hattie Larlham Center for Children with Disabilities will provide more transitional short-term services for people with disabilities. The pediatric ventilator and respite programs address the highly specialized needs of each person and provide quality care for as long as it is needed. These programs go beyond the services provided by Hattie Larlham and prepare them to return to the community.

Dear friends,

This year, Hattie Larlham celebrates 55 years of comfort, joy and achievement for children and adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities.

More than half a century later, after our founding, we still tell Mrs. Larlham's story. It's hard to know if she ever dreamt her calling would evolve into a statewide service provider supporting the needs of 1,800 children and adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities. The organization Mrs. Larlham started may seem different today, but at our core remains the promise of comfort, joy and achievement.

In 1961, there were no services to meet their needs; the disabilities population, simply put, was neglected. Mrs. Larlham took it upon herself to care for these children in her own home.

Today, Hattie Larlham serves people of all ages with intellectual and developmental disabilities. They thrive in community homes, day programs, recreational services, work training programs, community employment and in our preschool. We are grateful for our wonderful staff, supporters and volunteers who continue that which Mrs. Larlham started.

Hattie Larlham continues to grow and innovate. This year, we begin a $2 million center renovation to enhance care delivery; to develop short-term transitional services; and to expand our respite program. We look forward to sharing updates about our progress with you.

Opening this spring, Hattie's Food Hub brings fresh, local and affordable produce to Akron.

Getting ready for kindergarten

Hattie's Preschool provides social, emotional and educational foundation to last a lifetime

Five-year-old Sam knows how to write his name, phone number and address

“S-a-m. That’s how you spell my name,” five year old Sam proudly says.

Sam has attended Hattie’s Preschool for nearly two years. In May, he and 13 other students will experience their first educational milestone—preschool graduation.

Sam’s mother, Allyson Woodworth, recalls him clutching her leg on his first day at Hattie’s Preschool. Allyson admits they were both anxious. Before Hattie’s Preschool, Sam struggled to focus on academics and needed help controlling his emotions. The staff at Hattie’s Preschool worked with Allyson to identify social, emotional and educational goals for Sam. It was not long before she saw a positive difference in her son. Sam’s weaknesses slowly became his strengths.

“Sam has made leaps and bounds of progress,” said Allyson. “Hattie’s Preschool has a holistic approach to teaching and teaching about life. His desire to learn came from being here.”

Children who attend Hattie’s Preschool participate in a curriculum which begins kindergarten preparation on their first day. Lead teacher Cassie McCaulley and assistant teacher Nicole Burns work with the students’ families to identify strengths and weaknesses to work on in the classroom and at home.

Every year in January, Hattie’s Preschool completes a kindergarten readiness assessment for each child preparing to graduate. The assessment measures the children’s social awareness, how they self-identify and how they communicate their needs. The children use writing tools to demonstrate their fine motor skills, while physical activities such as jumping and running demonstrate gross motor skills. The assessment also measures progress in language, reading, writing and math.

“I can’t think of a vital skill that he hasn’t developed here,” said Allyson. “He’s ready [for kindergarten]. When he’s tested, he’ll do great.”

Allyson says her son says he will miss coming to Hattie’s Preschool every day. As a caregiver for people with disabilities, Allyson appreciates Hattie’s Preschool for providing Sam with more than just learning opportunities. Hattie’s Preschool is inside the Center for Children with Disabilities and Sam and the other children regularly interact with residents.

“It is important to me that Sam respects and appreciates differences. He’s learning about acceptance and love, which is equally as important as academics.”

In the coming months, Sam and his fellow future graduates will cover lesson plans and participate in exercises to prepare them for life in kindergarten. Upon graduating, Cassie and Nicole will present a final portfolio to each child’s family. The portfolio includes past assessments to demonstrate growth and readiness, art work, worksheets and projects.

Each graduate will leave Hattie’s Preschool with a portfolio to present to their new school—and an educational foundation to last a lifetime.

Hattie’s Preschool is enrolling part-time and full-time children ages 3 to 5 years old to begin in the spring or fall. To learn more or schedule a tour, please call Julie Lowe at 1-800-233-8611, ext. 3112, or visit www.hattielarham.org.

“I CAN’T THINK OF A VITAL SKILL HE HASN’T DEVELOPED HERE.”

We explore innovative ways to develop work-training opportunities that foster independence and teach the technical, social and emotional skills adults with disabilities need to obtain competitive community employment. Now open, Hattie's Food Hub provides more than just work experience. It is an opportunity for people with disabilities to be part of a healthy eating movement in Akron.

The food hub is a great example of Hattie Larlham working with other organizations. The program brings to fruition an initiative to build better communities and provide opportunities for the people we serve.

Last year, Hattie Larlham partnered with the Association for the Developmentally Disabled (ADD). The partnership extended medical, residential and recreational services to people with disabilities in central Ohio. Today, Hattie Larlham and ADD provide services to 1,800 people statewide.

In its 55-year history, Hattie Larlham earned a reputation as a leader in innovative, integrated care services for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities. Their occupational, social and recreational needs will shape the future of our services.

“Ten years from now we are going to be far more diverse in the services we provide and the people we serve,” said Allen. “Our mission will always be a guiding light for our future.”

This month, we celebrate developmental disabilities awareness. We also celebrate Mrs. Larlham's courage, tenacity and compassion. With the commitment of each Hattie Larlham employee, donor and volunteer, we will fulfill her mission of comfort, joy and achievement.

Golfers give back

On May 18, Hattie Larlham celebrates the 30th Anniversary of the Sugar Bush Golf Classic. Since 1986, the Sugar Bush Golf Classic has raised more than $750,000 in support of people with intellectual and developmental disabilities.

The tournament features both morning and afternoon sessions. Prizes will be awarded to the top golfers in both sessions. Special guests will be present throughout the day. Each golfer will also receive a special gift, courtesy of Cleveland Indians Charities, this year's Golfers' Gift Sponsor.

Thirty years of dedication and history of the Sugar Bush committee, sponsors and golfers makes this outing a very special event anniversary to celebrate.

To register for the 30th Annual Sugar Bush Golf Classic, visit www.hattielarlham.org. To learn more about sponsorship opportunities, contact Francesca Alex at (330) 274-2272, ext. 3084.

Experiencing music

Hattie's Creative Arts bring music sessions to Constant Companions

Every morning Tom walks into the Twinsburg Constant Companions with a stack of Elvis CDs. On days when music sessions are held, he anxiously sifts through track lists awaiting his turn in front of the microphone.

Tom is an active participant in Hattie's Creative Arts music sessions. He enjoys many forms of art, but it's his love for the King of Rock 'N' Roll that inspired his latest recording project.

Just as "Blue Suede Shoes" begins to play, Tom leans forward and belts out the first line. He loves the music. Tapping his feet and bobbing his head in time to the rhythm, he hums along in between choruses. The music sessions offer Tom a new way to experience his idol's music and explore his own talents.

"Each of our artists expresses themselves differently through their music," says Sarah Weirich, Hattie's Creative Arts music tracker. "This has been a great opportunity for them to explore a new form of art."

In the past 12 months, Sarah has taught more than 250 music sessions to Constant Companions participants. She guides people with disabilities through the process of writing their own songs, recording CDs and learning to play instruments.

Emily attends Constant Companions in Green. She wrote lyrics for a song to her mom. Her confidence to make musical decisions grows from session to session. Together with Sarah, Emily is learning to create a melody for the lyrics on the piano.

"I first learned about music in school and I love it," said Emily. "I love my mom and I'm excited to show her the song I wrote for her. I know she will be happy."

Stephanie attends Constant Companions with Emily. She's always had a love for music and owns her own guitar. Stephanie always wanted to learn how to play music, but because she is legally blind she cannot follow sheet music. During one-on-one music sessions, Sarah uses a hands-on teaching method to show Stephanie how to hold the guitar and play notes.

Tom and Sarah work on his Elvis project

Constant Companions musicians can compose new music with live instruments or GarageBand software, arrange samples of existing music to make their own or learn about musical instruments and styles.

"Hattie's Creative Arts has always sought new ways to provide the people we serve with the full art experience," said Hattie's Creative Arts Director Phylliss Steiner. "Our artists continue to push the boundaries of our program."

Last year, after a successful pilot program at the Constant Companions in North Canton and Green, Ohio, the Ohio Arts Council awarded Hattie's Creative Arts a grant to provide music sessions at three more locations.

"We've provided an opportunity for them to make their own music, in their own style with their own words," said Phylliss. "We are exploring new levels of music creation, which we will utilize with other artists in the future. It's going to be fantastic!"

To learn more about Hattie's Creative Arts, contact Phylliss Steiner at (330) 274-2272, ext. 3013.

FLASH FUND MARCH 21 and 22

Make a donation to provide aquatic therapy equipment for Center residents

Center for Children with Disabilities and group home residents benefit from Hattie Larlham's indoor pool year round. The pool helps relax muscles, stimulate senses and increase mobility. On cold winter days, it makes Northeast Ohio feel like southern Florida.

However, pool equipment and aquatic sensory toys wear out. During National Developmental Disabilities Month in March, Hattie Larlham is holding a Flash Fund to replace much-needed aquatic and therapy equipment. For 48 hours on March 21 and 22, Hattie Larlham will ask for your support.

Each donation you make will be matched dollar for dollar up to $2,500 by Netsmart. Donations can be made at Hattie Larlham's website at www.hattielarlham.org. Some of the items that need replacing include:

Hoyer lift slings. The lift helps our trained staff safely transport residents in and out of water. Because of the high chlorine levels in the pool, the slings need to be replaced frequently.

Aquatic sensory toys. Staff use these for cognitive and physical therapy during pool time. Many of the toys are old and worn and in need of replacement.

To support the Flash Fund campaign, contact Hattie Larlham Annual Fund Director Rosanne Drake at (330) 274-2272, ext. 3878. Visit Facebook and Twitter for more details. Like, share and retweet Hattie Larlham's posts with your friends and family to spread the word.

Center renovation begins spring 2016

Four-year, $2 million renovation creates state-of-the-art environment for treating medically fragile residents

During the next few years, visitors to the Hattie Larlham Center for Children with Disabilities will notice some significant changes to the building's interior. Beginning this year, Hattie Larlham will embark on a four-year, $2 million renovation of the Center to enhance care delivery to the most medically fragile people we serve, create opportunities for developing innovative short-term transitional services and expand respite care.

"The new space will allow us to serve more medically complex conditions in the most home-like environment," said Hattie Larlham Vice President of the Center and Group Homes Lori Oliver. "Safety, excellent quality care, privacy and comfort are top priorities for our residents."

The renovation brings significant opportunities not only to provide more attentive care to our most medically fragile residents, but to expand the best of our sub-acute care to children and families who need transitional or respite care. It also allows us to respond to changes in the way Ohio delivers Medicaid services to people with intellectual and developmental disabilities.

The Center has five living units. Four of the units will be redesigned to have one- and two-person bedrooms, each with their own windows and entrances. Renovations will be completed one living unit at a time.

The new configuration will allow the Center to provide specialty care at the bedside when necessary, lower the risk of infection among the most medically fragile residents, and create more private settings to enable family members to stay with their loved ones for brief periods of time when needed.

It will also create the additional space to meet the growing demand for the pediatric ventilator program. The ventilator program provides transitional services to children who require advanced respiratory care before going home to their families. These children no longer need the acute care of a hospital but could thrive in the sub-acute care setting that a transitional service offers to complete treatment and provide training to the family for the child's eventual return home. The renovation also supports the exploration of other short-term transitional services.

Respite care is one of the most strained resources in the network of services for people with intellectual and developmental disabilities.

With only two beds at the Center designated for respite care and a wait time of up to a year, many families' needs go unmet. The Center renovation enables Hattie Larlham to designate up to 10 additional beds to its respite and short-term transitional care program. People receiving this service benefit from the same individualized attention, specialized services, new surroundings and engaging activities provided to our long-term residents.

To learn more about the Center renovation campaign, contact Catherine Schwartz, Chief Development Officer, at (330) 274-2272, ext. 3457.

More than 1,800 Ohio children and adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities rely on Hattie Larlham programs and services made possible by your donations. Your gift makes a difference in the life of a person with intellectual and developmental disabilities.

Hattie's Food Hub to open in spring

Hattie Larlham brings fresh, healthy food and a retail market to Akron food desert

Soon, Akron area residents can purchase local, sustainable vegetables, fruits and dairy products right in their neighborhood.

The city of Akron has nearly 60 neighborhoods that qualify as food deserts—communities where most households are more than one mile from a source for purchasing affordable fresh fruits or vegetables. The food hub provides residents in the Cedar-Douglas neighborhood access to fresh vegetables and other products at the hub's retail space. In addition to shopping at the retail market, Akron residents can enjoy meal planning tips and cooking classes, and a community meeting space available to the public.

Northeast Ohio farmers can bring their produce to the food hub where employees will wash, package and make fresh local produce available to the community.

Proximity is important for keeping produce fresh and nutritious, to reduce our carbon footprint and boost our local economy. This allows farmers to spend more time growing and provides additional outlets for their produce. In addition to preparing produce from Hattie's Gardens and other farms for market, we will also make finished products. Hattie's Café and Gift is currently producing and packaging two products for local companies, Peaceful Fruits and 24/Zen Gluten Free Granola, the production for which will move to the Food Hub.

The food hub provides work and training opportunities for adults with and without developmental disabilities and fosters economic independence. Employees learn customer service skills and are taught the industry standards for proper food handling and preparation. Staff will turn local produce into Hattie's Food Hub products including salsas, jams, sauces, frozen vegetables and soup stock destined for Akron dinner tables.

Hattie's Food Hub is located at 395 Douglas Street in Akron, Ohio. To learn more, contact Hattie's Food Hub Manager Zac Rheinberger at (330) 760-2876.

Step up, strap in and go Over the Edge

This Fourth of July, see Cleveland from a different perspective. You can be one of 100 people to rappel 220 feet down the Westin Cleveland Downtown, Sat., July 2.

"Cleveland will be in the spotlight this July," said Dennis Allen, Hattie Larlham CEO. "We are thrilled to be downtown during this exciting time. The real thrill will belong to the Over the Edge for Hattie Larlham rappellers. They'll have a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity atop the Westin Cleveland Downtown. And they'll make a positive impact on the lives of people with intellectual and developmental disabilities."

Register at overtheedge.hattielarlham.org and create a personal fundraising page. Coworkers and other groups can form teams to fundraise together or compete against each other. Hattie Larlham's online resources and coaching messages make fundraising easy.

Rappellers need to raise $1,500 to earn their spot to go Over the Edge for Hattie Larlham. The event, previously held in Akron, raised more than $225,000 in 2014 and 2015.
